Weather and Stock Trading Disturb Ontario Election

103 Constituencies In Ontario Choose Members of House

Rain and Snow in Some Parts of Province and Threat of Storms in Others Prevent Total Vote Being as Large as Hoped For; Eight Acclamations; One Candidate Died.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Hopes for weather conditions favorable to a heavy vote in the Ontario general election were not fulfilled to-day.
In most districts east of the Great Lakes drizzling rain and snow, and in others cloudy, unsettled weather greeted the electors when the polling booths opened.

The central and western districts of southern Ontario reported a fine rain that was not encouraging to a heavy turnout of the voters.

STOCKS ARE INFLUENCE

Ottawa recorded a light vote up to mid-afternoon, with polling stations reporting little interest being shown.
Interest in the stock market was blamed in some quarters for the small vote.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—With the echoes of a six-week campaign shutting back and forth across the province, Ontario voters went to the polls to-day to elect their Eighteenth Legislature.

The polling to-day came after party leaders and candidates, with an imposing array of lieutenants and a whole army of supporters, had toured the province in a speech-making procession that carried them into every constituency.

A campaign that was marked by spat in its early stages warmed up in the final week with a flare of charges and counter-charges that were hurled from countless platforms and over the air by radio hookups.

CANDIDATE DIED

On official nomination day, October 19, there emerged from the swarm of party adherents and political contestants. Two hundred and two, or six of the 226 candidates nominated await the verdict of the electors tonight. The death yesterday of A. P.
Mewhinney, Liberal candidate and late member of the House for North Bruce, means a deferred election in that riding.

LEADERS' CONTESTES

leader, has as his opponent at the polls to-day F. L. Mason, Conservative.
In Greenville a prohibitionist, Rev. T.
R. Badson, is opposing Premier Howard Percussion. The Progressive leader, J. G.
Lethbridge, is engaged in a three-cornered contest in his riding of West Middiesex. He is opposed by Dr. L. W.
Freese, Conservative, and T. G. Turnbull, Liberal.

Independence For Philippines Is Topic At Pacific Conference

Kyoto, Japan, Oct. 30.—The Institute of Pacific Relations, which opened its conference here Monday, yesterday started round-table discussions.

During the day the question of Philippine independence arose at a joint meeting of the United States and Philippines delegations at which Maximo Kalaw and others presented the view of separation from the United States.
The meeting resulted in the appointment of a sub-committee to arrange further discussion of the question in connection with the present conference.

U.S. CUSTOMS SEARCHES ON DETROIT RIVER ARE RELAXED

Detroit, Oct. 30.—The Detroit Free Press to-day said customs officials had been instructed in writing to search no persons returning from Canada to Detroit "unless there are very obvious grounds to suspect them of smuggling."

Other new instructions, according to the paper, are

"Agents must not use their guns unless their lives are threatened, even to shoot in the name of warning."

"Small boats visiting the Canadian side need not report to a customs office on returning to the United States side unless carrying merchandise."

V.C. GOES FROM B.C.
TO LONDON DINNER

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Word of the Prizes of Wales' third race to be given November 9 in honor of all holders of the Victoria Cross trickled into a little settlement 100 miles from Salmon Arm, B.C., recently. Major J.
McGregor, stationed at the settlement,
received the news over the radio.
Major McGregor, whose valor on the Field of Battle while serving with the 2nd Guards in France had earned him the V.C., lost no time in getting him on a hurried trip to New York, from where he will sail aboard the liner Olympic for England. He raced 100 miles by automobile to the railway station at Salmon Arm, where he arrived only fifteen minutes before his train left.

The major, the thirteenth V.C.

holder of Western Canada to attend the dinner, passed through Winnipeg to-day on his last-minute dash eastward.

Broker-client Suit Over 55
Shares of C. & E. Corporation Opens To-day

The first broker and client suit to come before local courts in some time opened before Judge Lampman in County Court to-day, in an action by R. P. Clark & Company Limited, against C.
Robinson. Evidence was called for the plaintiff this morning. Carew Martin appears for the plaintiff.

Plaintiff claims $660 and interest alleged due following a transaction said to have been made with the defendant last spring, concerning the purchase of fifty-five shares of Calgary and Edmonton Corporation, when that stock was quoted at $12 a share on the market. The sum of $22 is claimed as interest.

Delivery of the stock was offered by the plaintiff firm to the defendant in July and declined according to witnesses taking the stand for the plaintiff this morning.

C. H. Ray, an accountant for R. P. Clark & Company, Limited, described the account on which the claim was based, and said interest had been fixed at the rate of 10 per cent for the month of July.

Miss Doris L. Plimley, stenographer for the plaintiff company, told of making out a statement in reference to the purchase of fifty-five shares in the C. & E. Corporation. The account was for $660 at the rate of $12 a share. Later she had been instructed to phone Mr. Robinson to say that delivery could be made. This was on July 29 or 30 last.

As plaintiff, G. H. O'Halloran, appeared with G. H. Sieders, the defendant, challenged the introduction of a copy of the alleged sale, on failure to secure the original document. Judge Lampman upheld the objection.

Hearing is proceeding, with the defense yet to be heard.

CLEMENTEL NOW TRYING TO FORM FRENCH CABINET

Radical Chairman of Senate
Finance Committee Called

Paris, Oct. 30.—Etienne Clementel, Finance Minister, and his months chairman of the finance committee of the Senate, late to-day definitely informed President Doumergue
he was organizing a Cabinet to succeed the Briand Ministry which resigned.

M. Clementel this morning was advised by S. E. McKeown, who represented Vancouver shipping interests, that the Cabinet had been unable to deal with the bridge grant question yesterday afternoon because of pressure of other business.

tion been equal to two inches of rain

GRAF TO BE OVERHAULED

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 30.—
For the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin one more trip, November 6, is appointed, after which it will be taken out of service and thoroughly overhauled. The November 6 flight is expected to take the airship to Frankfort-on-Main and back.

COLDEST AREAS

Lloydminster and Macklin, Alta., were the coldest spots on the prairies yesterday, with temperatures down to zero and nine degrees of zero.

Regina reported snow this morning and the fall was looked on as a flurry in the wake of the storm that had laid the southern section of the prairie provinces Monday and Tuesday. Four inches had fallen in Regina and the precipitation was continuing.

Miss Kenora and Port Arthur this morning reported a light snowfall similar to the wind-swept flurry at Winnipeg during the night. In eastern Saskatchewan and western Manitoba weather officials reported traces of snow, but no general or extensive fall was registered.

As the cold front moved on to the west, it was still possible a grant will be made by the Government equal to $250,000 contribution promised by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Although earlier Premier before M.
Clementel had been a prominent part in French political life, having been a member of several governments,
holding such portfolios as Finance, Commerce and Agriculture. As Minister of Finance in 1926 he played a large part in the Inter-Allied debt negotiations in progress at the time.
M. Clementel is sixty-five years of age.

M. Clementel, who is veteran Radical Socialist in the Senate, is regarded as one of the most moderate Radical to be able to form a union Government more to the left than to the Poincaré combination, excluding Conservatives of the Republican Union group and replacing them by Radicals.

Although earlier Premier before M.
Clementel was summoned by President Doumergue. It was first thought he would be asked to form a government, but it later developed that he and the President merely had talked over the situation.

Water Power Taxation and Immigration Touched By Nanaimo Member

Stock Crash Makes Foreign Trade Policies More Vital, O'Halloran Says

George S. Pearson, M.P.P. for Nanaimo, speaking before the annual meeting of the Esquimalt Liberal Association at Victoria Liberal Headquarters last night, presented some ideas on Government policies generally which he said should be seriously discussed by party associations.

"We should consider whether the public should have a permanent and continuous interest in our natural resources such as water power," Mr. Pearson said. "Water power when it is developed is practically not taxed at all, while coal is heavily taxed. Why should water power not be taxed on the basis that coal is taxed for the production of the same amount of power?"

HARDER FOR POOR MAN

"As for education, I see through our present movement in education just a tendency to make it harder for the poor man's son to get his education."

"Immigration is desirable for this country, but it must be of such a class that will not conflict with the labor already in this country. The fellows who want unrestricted immigration are those who want cheap labor. Do we want a number of people coming in and living around Vancouver and Victoria to take up the slack in our economy, much of which is seasonal? We want people brought in of such a class that can be worked into the economy of our country."

"Never was there a time in the history of our civilization when the tariff position was being criticized so much as to day. I am not in favor of throwing down the tariff walls, and the Liberal party has most certainly not been. But when a Conservative leader comes through the country and tells of the supposed advantages of a high and higher tariff, he is having the ground kicked under his feet every day by developments in other countries and the opinions of economists. The development of machinery here is now becoming so great that we have been able to overcome the odds of cheap labor against us."

"We must not put on our statutes any law just because of sentiment or emotions. We must be sure that the actions we develop through our sentimental desires are sound economically. It should be of great importance on the part of our associations to discuss proposals and be sure they are sound economically."

"The Conservative Party stands for a high tariff against all countries, including those of the British Empire, whereas the Liberal Party stands for development of trade relations, first within the British Empire, and then with other countries that wish to be reasonable and trade with us," Mr. O'Halloran went on. "The Conservatives through their tariff policy would shut off our foreign trade."

Speaking of Esquimalt affairs, Mr. O'Halloran said that the municipality will be to be congratulated on the great amount of work now going on there.

"It is also well to remember in connection with the repairs to the Empress of Canada that they were able to find so many experienced and qualified men to undertake the work," he said.

"It is doubtful if there are so many capable men to be found in any part of B.C."

He declared that the present activity could also be accepted as presaging what is likely to come for that port soon, as it now is the opinion of well versed men who follow such matters, that the C.P.R. will be soon docking all its Pacific liners regularly in Esquimalt.

W. H. Kinsman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, was introduced to the meeting.

Alfred Waite, retiring president, presented his annual report and declared that since the last Provincial election there had been intimidation practiced against members of the Esquimalt Liberal Association.

Dr. W. R. Gunn to Conduct Reorganization of Division of Agriculture Department

The Livestock Division of the Provincial Department of Agriculture is to be reorganized and coordinated, Hon. William Atkinson stated yesterday afternoon when announcing acceptance by Dr. W. R. Gunn, B.S.A., B.V.Sc., of Ottawa, of the post of Livestock Commissioner.

"Dr. Gunn will assume duty on December 1, when the departmental will cease operating as an individual entity. Since the death of Dr. T. McDonald, two years ago, the animal husbandry division of the Livestock department has been carried on by Dr. A. Knight, in combination with his own work, and the poultry, dairy, and other sections have been to a great extent independent. No changes are contemplated at this time in the staff of the livestock division. J. B. Munro, deputy minister, this morning stated that Dr. Knight will continue as chief of the veterinary branch. H. Rive will remain at the head of the dairy.

WEATHER FORECASTING AT LONG RANGE IS EXPLAINED

In an interesting talk before the local section of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada last night, F. Napier Denison, superintendent of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, discussed the possibilities of long range weather forecasting and explained various causes affecting weather all over the globe.

"Long range weather forecasting is a subject that for years has created much discussion and criticism, and it is with diffidence I have accepted your invitation to speak on this subject," said Mr. Denison at the outset.

"At the March meeting of the Western Forestry Association held at Seattle, I was invited to present a paper on 'Will science ever predict fire weather or fire seasons far in advance?'

"This paper was favorably received, and a general forecast then made that this last summer would probably be abnormally fine, hot and very dry on the Pacific slope, has to a large extent been verified.

"To obtain this information curves of the annual and summer precipitations recorded at Victoria which go back fifty years are plotted, close together, and also similar ones from the Vancouver, Kamloops and Stuart Lake records," Mr. Denison said, explaining how the conclusions had been drawn from this study.

SUN SPOTS

"From a study of over thirty years of these great weather changes on this North Pacific coast, one is convinced that they are part of the rhythmic changes ever active throughout our vast ocean of air, which when better known will make it possible, even on this continent, to forecast the weather months or even a year in advance, and this would be of great practical value to us in such a country as ours of vast interior, our efficient forest fire protection services, both Provincial and Dominion, and the great water power companies.

"In conclusion, in looking over the abnormal weather during the past year one is struck by the number of records broken for many years as to intense cold in Europe, depth of snow extending to southern France, zero weather in London, England, intense heat and droughts in the British Isles and Europe. On this continent intense heat and severe drought in many parts, including Ontario and the prairie provinces; also on this Pacific slope, the months of July, August and September were the driest and warmest on record, and also were very bad forest fire years, extending even to California."

"These storms or spots appear in fairly regular cycles of about eleven years, though others of longer periods have been noted, and also some periods of maximum sun spots are not nearly so pronounced as at others."

"A close study of these sun spot cycles shows that when the sun spots are at a minimum the world's temperature is usually above the normal, and during periods of maximum solar

Palmer Is Criticized By Rev. Dr. Endicott

Calgary, Oct. 30.—White rather than yellow men have been responsible for the so-called "White Terror," according to Rev. Dr. James Endicott, secretary of the foreign missions board of the United Church of Canada, who, when interviewed here yesterday, also levelled criticism against Frederic Palmer, war correspondent, for his view to the effect that China's sudden desire for independence created a menace for other nations.

Rev. Dr. Endicott offered the view that China's attitude was an encouraging indication of that nation's progress and he urged it was not advisable more than half the world's population should be in a position where its people were helpless victims of exploitation on the part of stronger nations.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 30.—Hon. H. D. Blandford, high sheriff of Newfoundland since 1917, died Monday night at age sixty-one.

NO BLOCKADE OF EXPORT GRAIN AT VANCOUVER

AT GREAT LAKES

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—By a forward bound of one-third of million bushels in the last twenty-four hours, grain to-day stood at a record high mark for the season. A total of 75,000,000 bushels was packed into the high piled bins to-day—200,000 bushels more than at any time since the movement of 1928 began.

Less grain was taken out yesterday aboard steamers than on any day since storms held up shipping last week. Three vessels left Fort William carrying but 46,000 bushels. The number of cars awaiting unloading was cut down by 275 to less than 4,400 cars.

LESS IN ELEVATORS

At the same time, storage in prairie elevators showed the first drop in a week. Bin contents fell more than 100,000 bushels to 86,157,000 bushels, though Government elevator contents increased by 20,000 bushels almost to within 750,000 bushels of their 12,000,000-bushel capacity.

Both loadings and marketings showed a pronounced drop. The former fell twenty per cent to 738 cars and the latter decreased nearly thirty per cent to 1,039,000 bushels.

IMPRIE SPEAKS AT SHERBROOKE

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 30.—Speaking at a joint dinner of the Canadian Club and the Rotary Club of Sherbrooke last night, John M. Irvin, managing editor of The Edmonton Journal, described what he called "Canada's New North." He spoke of the great progress of that section of the country stretching northwest of Lake Superior and the basic causes of the new movement—the lure of mineral wealth as well as agricultural and forest development.

Newsprint Mills In Canada Nearly Double U.S. Output

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Newsprint statistics for September are particularly satisfactory showing that Canadian mills operated to 91.3 per cent of rated capacity. This is the highest rate at which mills have operated since January, 1927, according to Wood, Gundy & Co.

The total production in Canada was 227,663 tons, compared with 185,059 tons for September, 1928. For the first nine months of the present year Canadian production totaled 1,993,881 tons, compared with 1,732,563 for the corresponding period last year—this representing an increase of 15 per cent.

The increase in production appears to be confined to Canada, inasmuch as the United States production for the first nine months was one per cent less than for the corresponding period in 1928. The Canadian nine-month production of 1,993,881 tons, compared with 1,038,324 tons in the United States, and while Canadian mills operated at 91.3 per cent in September, mills in the United States operated at 81.3 per cent. There has also been a decline in the percentage on hand at mills, this having dropped from 48,802 tons a year ago to 30,742 tons at the end of September.

Following is a table of production for the nine months ended September 30 from 1924 to 1928, inclusive, in Canadian and United States mills:

	Canadian United States
	Mills Tons Mills Tons
1924	1,018,783 1,109,546
1925	1,15,232 1,177,926
1926	1,88,000 1,88,000
1927	1,519,049 1,125,686
1928	1,732,563 1,047,602

FIVE SENTENCES OF DEATH FOLLOW MURDER

Moscow, Oct. 30.—Five Russians, among them one priest, were sentenced to death in the village of Anaflovo, near Moscow yesterday, for alleged complicity in the murder of a government grain collector and wounding of six others. The public prosecutor charged the priest instigated the murder, while one of the four other defendants carried it out. Seven other shots were said to have been fired by the others, all alleged to have been in rich peasant sons, who picked off a man in the middle of the street while his father supplied him with ammunition.

McGEER RETURNS TO COAST AFTER
FREIGHT HEARING

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Hopeful presentation of British Columbia's case for the maximum discount rates may yet be removed. G. G. McGeer, who appeared recently before the Cabinet at Ottawa in the freight rate appeal of the British Columbia branch of the United Farmers of Canada has returned to this city.

Associated with the United Farmers in the appeal were Charles E. Hope and R. W. Holland.

Mr. McGeer said he was satisfied with his treatment and believed British Columbia's case was viewed from a common point at the hearing. He pointed out that after Manitoba and Saskatchewan had moved for an adjournment of the hearing in which Alberta and British Columbia occurred, the Cabinet consented to hear the appeal of a minority body, the United Farmers of Canada, British Columbia section.

Mr. McGeer was met on arrival here by representatives of the B.C. Section of the United Farmers of Canada headed by J. E. Armstrong, president, and by J. E. Whitford, Agassiz; G. L. Thornton, Sardis; T. Catherwood, J. B. Shimick and G. B. Motherwell, Hatzic, and D. G. Macdonald, Vancouver, secretary.

GAINS AT TORONTO

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Gains throughout the general list of issues on the Montreal Stock Exchange ranged up to eleven points at the close of the market to-day. The largest gain of eleven points was shown in Steel of Canada when it sold at 49, as compared with yesterday's closing price of 38.

Gains of six points were common.

Montreal moved up to 45, a gain of 1/2. International Nickel moved over a comparatively wide range and showed a net advance of 35 at 38 1/2.

Some of the power issues came back in starting fashion with late sales.

MINE SHARES

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Stocks on the Standard Mining Exchange here closed strong to-day under the influence of the market to-day.

International Nickel and Canadian nickel moved up to 45 at 38 1/2.

Both cars were left on the side of the road and police were on the scene shortly after the accident.

GET NO ACTION ON GRANT FOR BURRARD BRIDGE

CONTRIBUTION EXPECTED

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—An Ottawa dispatch to The Vancouver Daily Province says:

"A substantial contribution by the Federal Government toward the construction of Burrard Street Bridge seems practically assured. Such consideration as has been given the matter in the Cabinet produces a favorable reaction. These votes have to be made by Parliament and they are inserted in the estimates brought down each session, none of which have been dealt with yet by the Treasury Board.

"There is every reason to believe, however, that Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, is favorable to the plan, and some definite commitment to the contribution is expected before the next general election takes place. About $250,000, but not more, is mentioned as the likely grant from the Dominion.

"The Federal Government does not stand in the cost of local bridges or undertakings, but it is in a different category, in that the removal of the old bridge and the building of a new one will operate distinctly to the improvement of navigation. The anticipated contribution of the Government will be in respect of this alone."

FINES LEVIED FOR VIOLATION OF GAME ACT

Duncan, Oct. 30.—Violations of the local game act occupied much time in the local police court here yesterday morning. John Jones of Nanaimo pleaded guilty to a charge of discharging a firearm on a traveled road in the North Cowichan Municipality. He paid a fine of fifteen dollars.

Frank R. Moore and Frank Ray, Victoria, pleaded guilty to a charge of trespassing on enclosed lands without permission of the owner, occupier or his orifice took place at Hillbank, Mount. Moore was fined twenty dollars and Ray ten. Both were given a fine of fifteen dollars.

A charge against Indian Charlie of Cowichan River was dismissed owing to insufficient evidence.

BIG MAUSOLEUM IS TO BE BUILT

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—The E. J. Ryan Contracting Company Limited has been awarded the contract for construction of the first unit of the $1,000,000 mausoleum and columbarium which will be erected in the Ocean View Burial Park by the Ocean View Burial Limited.

Construction of the left wing only is covered in the present contract. The work on this section is understood to be valued at about one-quarter of the total cost.

Bodies of Two Boys Found In Prairie Shack

Regina, Oct. 30.—The discovery of the bodies of two boys in a shack eight miles southeast of Elfron, Sask., yesterday afternoon brought a tragedy to light. The bodies were those of Roy Casement, twelve, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Casement, district farmer, and George Ireland, twenty-two, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ireland, who live four miles southwest of Leslie.

Beside the bodies was found a shotgun which appeared to have been discharged recently.

No solution of the mystery has been offered by the police, who are conducting an investigation. An inquest was opened, but adjourned after the bodies had been viewed.

CLOSE VOTERS' LIST THURSDAY

Registrations at City Hall Will Conclude To-morrow at 5 p.m.

The city voters' list will close automatically to-morrow at 5 p.m., when, by statute, registration for the current list ceases. The court of revision will sit on November 20 at 10 a.m. at the City Hall. Mayor Herbert Ancombe, Aldermen J. L. Mara and R. A. C. Dewart comprise the tribunal this year.

A total enrolment of approximately 11,500 names was on the list last year, and may be slightly increased this year, it is anticipated.

Proprietors and property-owning corporations are registered automatically, if they are the registered owners of property within the city. Trades licensees, both individuals and corporations, are registered on application, with the necessary declarations. All corporations must file a declaration of authorized representation.

Individuals of both sexes and of the full age of twenty-one years who have lived in Victoria since the first of the year are eligible to vote, where they take steps to put themselves on the list. Householders are registered on application at the City Hall, or through authorized commissioners.

Road and poll taxes of $2 and $5, respectively, are collected off males who do not contribute to the tax levy; while road tax only is required from females, before registration may be effected. Errors in the list, by inclusion or exclusion, are adjusted at the annual court of revision.

REMOVE FILM... that's where decay, pyorrhea start

Film must be removed

Employ the scientific method dentists urge

WHAT causes decay? Germs. Germs, with tartar, are also held to be a chief cause of pyorrhea. Germs on the teeth—and there are millions—are difficult to reach. A dingy, glue-like film holds them in contact with the tooth's enamel.

This film gets into crevices and stays. It clings so stubbornly that only a special film-removing tooth paste can remove it satisfactorily. That tooth paste is the scientific formula called Pepsodent. Utterly different from every other.

KNIGHTS HEAR OF CONDITIONS IN OLD LAND

Philip Carr of Peak, Frean & Co. Addresses Round Table Group at Dinner Meeting

Philip Carr, chairman of Peak, Frean & Company Limited of London, England, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Knights of the Round Table in the Empress Hotel last night.

Rupert E. Carr, son of the speaker, was the guest of the club.

In his address Mr. Carr spoke of the conditions he had found in Canada and contrasted them with the Old Country conditions.

Montreal and Quebec had impressed him with its French influence, he said, while Toronto he had noted for its American activity. Winnipeg seemed a more Canadian character, but on arriving in Vancouver he began to feel at home, and in Victoria felt he really was in England.

Canada, with its vast resources, had only its surface scratched, Mr. Carr said. Despite this fact, wonderful progress had been made in such a short space of time.

QUICKER TO WALK

Canadian automobiles traveled at forty miles an hour on the average. In London, the traffic situation was bad, he said, and many people found it quicker to walk in the more congested parts, than to use automobiles.

Cheap electric light and power were available to Canadians. In the Old Country gas and coal were used for lighting and heating purposes and electricity was too costly.

Mr. Carr spoke of recent developments in London. A building boom was now in progress, he said, and new roads were being built in every direction. Railroads for fifty miles out of the city were practically all electrified.

WAGES HIGHER

Although taxation was becoming a heavy burden in England, wages were nearly double what they were before the war, said Mr. Carr.

Trade unions were very strong in the Old Land, he continued. As an employer he favored unionism as long as it retained its sanity. If union men were treated fairly he always found they responded, in kind. No employer had a right to quarrel with a working man who sought a living wage.

With regard to the Labor Government, Mr. Carr said that less men could avoid being influenced by agitators in the ranks all would be well. Although a Conservative himself, he would support the Labor Party. He had found that labor was loyal to its interests, a circumstance which could not be applied to the Conservatives as a party.

Women Members Of Colwood To Elect Officers

Women members of the Colwood Golf Club will hold their annual general meeting on Thursday, November 4, at 8 o'clock at the Sprott-Saville School. Election of officers for the year will be the main business of the meeting.

THE WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

Beauty contests are at least as old as the Trojan War and probably older than that but because of the way they have lived in the country the past ten years are the number of beauties who have contested for Miss America honors, we are apt to consider them our own pet institution.

However, Miss Turkey, otherwise Feriha Tevfik Hanoum, was recently chosen the beauty queen of her country in a competition that was sponsored by the leading newspaper of the country and which had fifty judges chosen from the arts, theatre, the media, press and the municipality.

And here is the question that is expected to do about her laurels: "I'd like to get into the movies. I'd rather have a career than get married."

And how many years is it now since Turkish women discarded their veils?

France has recently been holding contests, but not the regular stereotyped sort. It seems to be customary in the smart cafes and hotels to have the guests vote for the most distinguished looking woman in the room.

When the votes are collected, the lady who won the honor is expected to know if the minds being declared the most distinguished lady in the room.

Just what would happen if she refused is not known, for so far no woman has objected.

BUSY WOMEN

The first school of its kind in this country has just been established by Dr. Mabel S. Douglass, dean of the New Jersey College for Women—a School of Politics for Women.

It is Dr. Douglass' contention that whereas preparation for motherhood should include hygiene, diet, child psychology, cooking and the ability to read and write, that she needs a sound training in civil government.

She claims that housework has been so simplified that women have more time than ever before.

Which causes me to ask: What do women do with the time they used to have that they had to have to do all the actual work they did? Having just visited in a home with all the modern conveniences, with a maid and a laundress thrown in, I must say I never had less time, nor did I ever see a busier woman than my hostess. But I am perfectly sure if anyone suggested to her that she might study politics she would go in for it.

She is seriously engaged in doing what the community expects, and apparently it expects quite a large order from her. If she stopped to think about it, I'm not sure she would not be glad to go back to the old ways, and let all the time savers go. She might come out in the long run.

EFFECT OF RATE OF TREE GROWTH

A study by the Forest Products Laboratories, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, of the rate of growth of trees as it affects the strength of the wood, has revealed some facts hitherto unknown. For instance, in Douglas fir, the rate of growth shows the greatest strength, while in white spruce the slower the rate of growth of the tree, the stronger the wood. As a rule, for hardwoods, the highest strength values for any species are those associated with moderately fast growth.

TWO ORDINARY BEHAVIOR PROBLEMS

Mrs. M. G. writes:

"My five-year-old boy steals things around the house and gives them to his playmates. I have tried every method to cure him without success."

All children like to make an impression on their playmates. Your boy, not having other legitimate ways, is compelled to steal things from you. Tell him you are to give him his things with his playmates. If he wants "goodies" he may have them if he will ask for them. If he gives his own things away to try to be patient about it, but give him a better sense of property rights than he leaves yours alone. At the present time he should be taught to differentiate between what is his, which by rights he should do with, and what belongs to others.

It is plain to see that everything she does is the inevitable result of the treatment she is getting at home. The eating situation could be cleared up overnight. Why should her eating or sleeping either please or annoy you? She is old enough to know when she is hungry, and if she doesn't want to eat well, "If you aren't hungry, dear, then don't eat."

If you are truly indifferent to this you'll find that overnight she'll discover that it is expedient to eat and not wait to be coaxed. You have brought this situation about and you can fix it.

I am sure our discipline series would be immensely helpful to you. Please send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for "What to Do When Baby Says I Won't," and "List of Books Helpful in Understanding Obedience and Punishment." And do stop calling the child naughty. That alone would inspire her to continue her actions.

PARK ANIMALS ARE FEARLESS

All national parks in Canada are game sanctuaries and all game inside park boundaries is rigidly protected. No hunting is permitted within park areas and all firearms must be sealed upon entry. This protection brings a splendid reward in the increasing number and tameness of even such shy creatures as mountain sheep and goat. In these parks a unique opportunity is afforded of photographing and studying all varieties of animals—moose, elk, mountain sheep, goat, deer, bear and antelope—at very close range.

The easiest clothes bag to make is the coat hanger type. Use a square of material, saw up both sides and round it across the top to fit a clothes hanger you hang it on. Silt it down about twelve inches from the hanger, on one side.

MUSICAL PRODIGY

The tiniest musician ever seen in a concert hall, nine-year-old Ruggiero Ricci, pictured above, awoke to find himself ranked with the greatest of the world's violinists after his debut in New York. An audience wept and clapped and applauded him heartily in their surprise when the boy prodigy, son of an Italian day laborer of San Francisco, played the most difficult movements with amazing ease.

This unusual bag with stirrup handles is of light brown antelope.

Guard
the Skin Health
of Your Children

To the child, the cut finger, the scratched hand or face, or the bruised knee, may be just a cut, a scratch, or a bruise—something to be endured or even boast about. But to Mothers these little cuts and bruises mean possible infection—real trouble-makers.

In the bath Lifebuoy soothes the little nicks and knocks of the day's play. Its creamy, antiseptic lather goes deep into the countless tiny pores, cleanses them, opens them up and lets them breathe . . . and stands guard like an invisible shield.

Many mothers have found that Lifebuoy is a real two-purpose soap—that it both cleanses and protects from germs.

These are some of the reasons why in so many Canadian homes the orange-red cake of Lifebuoy is as familiar a sight as the bath tub itself.

Doctors, nurses and school teachers endorse Lifebuoy. Let your family, too, enjoy its benefits.

VICTORIA WOMEN ATHLETES GIVEN REPRESENTATIVE

Bessie Forbes to Transact Local Business For B.C. Branch of W.A.A.F.

In response to the request of the main body of the British Columbia branch of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation, to have a representative in Victoria, Bessie Forbes has been named to fill the post here. Her duties will be to distribute amateur registration cards to all women athletes of the city and to carry on the business of the federation in general.

Up to two years ago the registration of women athletes and general business regulating their affairs was transacted by the provincial branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. But two years ago the parent organization decided that the fairer sex was quite capable of attending to its own affairs. Consequently the W.A.A.F. was formed with head offices in Vancouver.

Owing to an oversight during the election of officers, Victoria was left without a representative. Consequently all women athletes here were required to communicate with Vancouver for registration and other business. This led to considerable confusion and caused a great loss of time and expense.

The appointment of a local representative will remove these sources of contention and will greatly facilitate the promotion of women's athletics here.

The body will govern virtually all competitive sports with the exception of swimming.

Victoria has a considerable number of registration forms on hand and will distribute them to those applying at The Times office.

COMPLETE CARD IS ANNOUNCED

Five Bouts on Programme at Tillicum Gymnasium on Saturday

Matchmaker Bob Vipond of the Central Boxing Club announced to-day that the complete programme of bouts for Saturday night's show at the Tillicum Gymnasium is as follows:

First bout, four rounds, 165 pounds—Ted Beales, Victoria, vs. Ray Mills, Seattle.

Second bout, four rounds, 140 pounds—Seaman Jennings, Victoria, vs. Art McKillop, Seattle.

Third bout, four rounds, 135 pounds—Johnny Duffy, Boston, vs. Ted Cook, Seattle.

Semi-windup, 145 pounds, four bruising right cross to the jaw.

sounds—Kid Stubbs, Alberni, vs. Red Russo, Seattle.

Main event, ten rounds, 120 pounds—Jumbo Davies, Victoria, vs. Danny Flores, Seattle.

A large crowd of fans attended the bout last night at the Tillicum Gymnasium and were much impressed with the showing of Jumbo Davies, Johnny Duffy and Kid Stubbs, tops into their sparring partners as if a real contest was in progress.

The boys will work again to-night at 8 o'clock when the fans will have another chance to look the boys over.

McLarnin Knocks Out Brother In Training Session

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Jimmy McLarnin, the hard-hitting Irishman, doesn't mix brotherly love with his boxing.

In training for his coming ten-round bout with Sammy Mandell, Jimmy sparred with his brother yesterday and promptly sent him down and out with a roundhouse right cross to the jaw.

Six Teams Will Play Saturday In First Games

Victoria College, Last Year's Champions, Appear to Have Strongest Team; Will Oppose University School in Opening Match; Y.M.C.A., J.B.A.A., Canadian Scottish and Oak Bay Wanderers All Ready to Get Under Way; Keen Competition Expected.

On Saturday afternoon the six intermediate rugby fifteens in the city league will swing into action in the first games of the season. All teams have been practicing consistently during the last few weeks and are expected to be in good shape for their initial encounters.

Word received by Phil Willis, secretary of the Victoria Rugby Union, stated all teams are well prepared and should be able to furnish some stiff games during the season.

As far as actual reports go, Victoria College last year's champions, appear to have the strongest squad in the top. University School, with only two members of the 1928-29 fifteen on the roster, are about considerably below their usual strength as far as weight and experience is concerned. But to offset this disadvantage, their coach has picked a fast band of good youngsters who should round into good shape before the season is far advanced.

TEAM WEAKENED

Mortimer, captain, and one of last year's forwards, and Brinkley, the vice-captain and scrum half, will be leaders of the pack and backfield respectively. Under their leadership and the expert coaching of Reg. Wenman, the team should develop into quite a good squad. Although their weight is far below par, the speed of both forwards and backs will prove a great advantage to them.

College promises to be stronger than ever this season. In addition to several of their former stars, they will be strengthened by Larry Kennedy, who last year played fullback for the senior Canadian Scottish. Kennedy has applied for reinstatement in the inter-round semi-windup at 125 pounds.

"Jocko" Anderson Named Manager of Local Hockey Team

Former Member of Victoria Cougars Will Handle Cubs in This Year's Campaign for Pacific Coast Hockey League Championship; Is Very Popular With Local Fans; Ken Williamson, Regina Amateur, Coming for Try-out With Cubs.

Local hockey fans who have been wondering for the last few weeks who would be selected to manage the Victoria Cubs this season will be more than pleased with the announcement that "Jocko" Anderson, former member of the Victoria Cougars, will guide the club this year. "Jocko" arrived in town last night from Duncan and immediately went into conference with Stanley weeks who would be selected to manage the Victoria Cubs this long to come to terms and "Jocko" signed on the dotted line.

The signing of Anderson will undoubtedly be with the hearty approval of all Victoria fans. When he was a member of the Cougars, "Jocko" was immensely popular with the followers. Always a hard worker, even though he was greatly handicapped by his lack of weight, Anderson drew the praise of the spectators for his daring play. He had previous experience as a manager, as two years ago he piloted the Victoria Capitals, local amateur club, to victory in the Coliseum Cup inter-city series. He also managed the Nelson Hockey Club for several years.

"Jocko" commenced his hockey career on the prairies when only a youngster. He played with several juvenile and junior clubs and his first try in senior company was with St. John's College of Winnipeg, this team winning the Western Canada inter-collegiate championship. The following year the World War commenced and "Jocko" joined up. While stationed at Winnipeg, he piloted the 1st Battalion, the only armoured team to win the coveted Allan Cup, emblematic of the Dominion championship.

Upon returning from the war "Jocko" joined the Selkirk Hockey Club. That season the Selkirks lost to the Winnipeg Falcons in the Allan Cup finals.

During 1920-21-22 Anderson played his first pro hockey with the Calgary Tigers. The following year he joined the Cougars and remained with them.

SOME MORE LETTERS ON
"WHY I KNOW THERE IS A SANTA"

DONALD PROVES IT

Dear Santa Claus Editor:

I know there is a Santa Claus because my mother tells me so. My father also tells me that every Christmas morn the draught for the stove is much better so that shows that Santa Claus is coming down the chimney not only cleaning it out but also bringing us lots of presents. And oh such joy us kids get when trying our stockings to see what he put in them. And you bet we don't need any calling or any alarm clocks to get us up on Christmas morn. We would like to see him come with his cheery smile and reindeer with sleigh but get up as early as we can he has gone. But although we never see him we feel grateful for the good cheer and lovely presents he always brings us. Good old Santa may you long live and always bring joy to us kids.

Your friend,

Age 10 years. Donald Gunn, Saanichton P.O. B.C.

HE SAW HIM

902 Hampshire Rd., Oak Bay 28 October 1929.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I know there is a Santa Claus because I just happened to look out of our window on Hampshire Rd. soon after got up last Christmas morning I saw him crossing the road and going in to one of the other houses quite close to our home and I stayed at the window and saw him come out and get into his car and go away. I wish I had seen more of him I wanted to thank him for all the nice things he had left for me that morning. I was glad to see him but I don't think he likes to be seen by little boys on Christmas morning.

Santa Claus also sent me a letter by Mail with my own name on and I kept it clean and sent it to my grandma in Scotland to let her see how kind Santa had been to me.

Stuart Burnell, Age 6

PEEPED AT HIM

907 Collinson St., Victoria, B.C.

Dear Editor:

I certainly do believe in Santa Claus for every Christmas eve he visits us. One year I peeped out my eyes were little bit and saw him in his red clothes appearing out of my bedroom. I often dream about him and picture him in his ice palace at the North Pole making all the beautiful toys for the good boys and girls. When Christmas comes he drives in his sleigh with his sack on his back and isn't it just wonderful how he knows just what you want every time. At Grandpa's Santa Claus comes in the afternoon and everybody has a present grown up's to, isn't he a funny man he talks down low and calls out everybody's name and gives them a present the drives off again and nobody knows where he goes.

Douglas Warner, Age 10 Oct 12th

ASKED MOTHER

"Why I know there is a Santa Claus."

When I first went to school the children tried to tell me there was no Santa Claus. Then I went home and asked my mother and she told me that.

Once upon a time there lived a rich man whose name was Saint Nicholas. This was a very kind man and sent the poor people gifts, but he was never seen down town.

When he died everybody was very sad because there would be nobody who would help them so to remember his saintly acts they celebrated his birthday by giving someone a gift. So that those who give are Santa Claus' even if they live at the North Pole and in houses of ice where everybody drives a reindeer.

Christmas is our time of giving and is remembered because it was the birthday of Christ who gave The Gift, His Life.

Eileen R. Cowley.

GETS ALL EXCITED

1972 Davie St., Victoria, B.C. Sat. Oct. 27.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Why I think there is a Santa Claus, is because every year so far as I can remember he has brought what I have been wanting. I look out for the news of Santa in the news paper, and watch for his coming. I get so excited when I hear he has left his igloo ready to visit all the little girls and boys in think of it! Without drugs, without starvation diets, without dangerous exercises, but with a new method, easy and harmless, this enthusiastic user reduced 28 lbs. in weight; lost two inches around the waist and gained enormous in health and vigor, and I have lost two inches round the waist and hips and 28 lbs. since last summer. I feel very well on it, and people tell me I look very fit. I am 5 ft. 4 in., in height, 40 years old and come of a stout family." It is so simple, too. You just take Kruschen Salts every morning with a glass of water before breakfast. The Kruschen habit means that all those poisonous waste matter and harmful acids—the sole cause of excess fat—are being expelled from the system.

Kruschen Salts reduces weight slowly, safely, but surely. In three or four weeks you will have lost pounds in weight. Sparkling health and vitality will be yours, clear eyes and a slim, youthful figure. (Advt.)

Victoria. He tries to make them happy, and I think that Christmas would be very unhappy if there wasn't a Santa. What makes me think there is a Santa Claus is because I have seen him in Spencers and Hudson Bay, and have spoken to him, and he is a dear, dear old Santa.

age 10 years. Yours truly, Gwenth S. Harris.

LOTS OF TIMES

523 Craigflower Rd.; Victoria B.C. Oct. 27, 1929.

Dear Editor:

I am so sure there is a real Santa Claus because we have lots of times, and we get presents every year from him. Mamma says the Santa Claus we see in Hudson Bay and Spencers is not the really truly Santa Claus—he is nice and fat and jolly like that but he is only a spirit and no-one can see a spirit. That is why lots of boy's and girl's don't believe there is one at all—but they are all wrong, because he is real and we all love him. Mama says all the love and spirit of Santa Claus. So he must be real even though we can't see him as he is. But we all love to see the make-believe one, even if we know it's only Daddy all dressed up so jolly, and say I'm glad to think he will soon be here.

Ada Mickelson, Age 10 year old.

OF COURSE THERE IS.

Shanwigan Lake B.C. Oct 23 1929

My reasons for knowing there is a Santa Claus are:

Five years ago I lived on the Sooke Road with my Mamma and Daddy. We were going to spend Christmas with my Grandpa, but Daddy took ill so we could not go.

So on the afternoon of Christmas Day Santa Claus came to our house, took the presents off my Christmas Tree and gave them to everyone. Then he held me on his lap and kissed me. And every year he brings me what I ask for also takes things to other little girls and boys when I ask him to. I also see him at Spencers and Hudson Bay every year.

Of course there is a Santa Claus we all know that.

Bethul Woodruff, age 9 years

MET HIM IN VANCOUVER

1740 Fort St., Victoria B.C. Oct. 23, 1929.

Dear Sir:

It is my letter to tell you why I know that there is a Santa Claus.

Last Christmas my Mother took me to the Hudson's Bay in Vancouver to see Santa Claus.

He told me that he would bring me a nice wagon and he did.

Then I wrote him a letter and asked him to send me a picture book all about air-ships and aeroplanes.

And one Christmas night I woke up and saw him sitting on my bed.

And my brother asked for a air-gum and he got it too. So I know that there is a Santa Claus.

My Mother and Father told me that Santa Claus lived up on a big mountain in the cold country. And I have saw a picture of his rein deer too.

And Mother told me that if I was a good boy that he would give me some presents.

Yours truly, Bert Perry.

COCOA FOR SANTA

Archie Blackmore, 521 Langford St., Victoria B.C. Oct. 27.

Dear Mr. Editor:

You want to know if we believe in Santa Claus well my little brother and I sure think there is a Santa we went to see him at Spencers last year he looked so jolly and he took my little brother on his knee I don't know what Christmas would be like without him as he brings us such a wonderful time, it must be lovely to live at the North Pole and live in a igloo and at Christmas time be able to come away down to Victoria on the reindeer and sleigh riding such a wonderful lot of toys. I guess Santa is very busy at Christmas time as last year when it was time to call at our house brother and I left Santa a hot cup of coca and he never had time to drink it so we want to tell him this year to drink it as he must get very cold travelling around so many places one thing more we like is to count the days in your paper telling us how soon it will be Christmas three cheers for good old Santa.

Archie Blackmore, Age 11 years

PREMIER AND COMMISSION

Almonte, Ont. Oct. 20—Premier G. Howard Ferguson denied here last night a statement made by Dr. G. F. Henderson. On the 18th the Prime Minister had brought on the Ontario general election fourteen months before the end of his term. He said that the administration's term would have "expired in order to secure appointment for himself" to the chairmanship of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. "Dr. Henderson was the first to make that guess, and the fellow fellow was wrong," was the comment of Premier Ferguson.

Five special concerts at the Empress Hotel this season—November 14, December 11, January 23, March 28, April 17.

LAND REGISTRY ACT
Section 100In the Matter of Lot 16 of Section 11,
Esquimalt District, Plan 1163

PROOF having been filed in my office of the loss of Certificate of Title No. 62481-1 to the above mentioned land, in the name of Alastair O'Brien and Mary Margaret O'Brien, and filed on the 28th day of July, 1928, I hereby give notice of my intention that the expiration of one calendar month from the date of this notice, I shall issue a provisional Certificate of Indefinite Title in lieu of such lost Certificate. At the same time I shall furnish information with reference to such lost Certificate. The same is requested to communicate with the undersigned.

Dated at the Land Registry Office, Victoria, B.C. this 11th day of October, 1929.

H. J. CRANE,
Registrar, Victoria Land Registration District.

away from his opponent and belted the ace with a hard body attack. Hudkins kept coming in, flailing away with both hands and scored with a looping left to the jaw. They milled around the ring without damage. Walker missed a wild left hook and they clinched. Walker connected with a hard right to the body but took several lefts and rights to the mid-section in return. Walker missed a right to the jaw but connected with a left uppercut. Walker then rallied and chased the champ back around the ring with a two-handed body attack as the bell sounded.

ROUND ONE

The Nebraskan landed a left to the body to start the round. He rushed in again, shot over a straight left to the face, but took a right and left to the chin in return. They exchanged rights and lefts to the body. Walker scored with a short right uppercut and a left to the body as Hudkins bobbed. Hudkins landed two rights to the kidneys but dropped back from two hard rights to the chin. Walker speared his opponent with short rights and lefts to the chin as the challenger rushed in with his head down. Hudkins landed a right and left to the jaw and drove Walker back around the ring from punches to the mid-section as the round ended.

ROUND TEN

They shook hands, exchanged lefts to the face on the next exchange. Walker brought Hudkins' chin up with a bristling right uppercut. A right opened the cut over Hudkins's eye, which he bled profusely from a split in. Walker whipped over rights and lefts to the jaw. Walker rushed in. Hudkins drove over a low left and was cautioned by the referee. They exchanged lefts to the body. Both connected with rights and lefts in the ring. Walker landed a right to the jaw and pounded Hudkins with both hands to the face and body. They missed rights, but Walker jolted Hudkins with two more lefts and a right to the jaw as the round ended.

ROUND SIX

Walker met Hudkins' bull-like rush and batted each other at short range. Hudkins forced the champion around the ring, mauling at him and beating a tattoo to the body. Walker unleashed a two-handed attack to the body and clipped Hudkins with a hard left to the chin coming out in again and received two more lefts and rights to the chin that half spun him around. Hudkins wrapped his left arm around Walker's neck and belted with his right to the body. They exchanged rights to the body, each reeling back. Hudkins drove in with his head down, but received three rights and lefts to the body, which brought him up sharply. They milled furiously as the round ended.

ROUND ONE

Walker met Hudkins' bull-like rush and batted each other at short range. Hudkins tried to rush close. Walker tried to rush close. They exchanged rights and lefts at short range. Walker hooked to the face with a left and right and dropped both punches to the body in another exchange. Hudkins came in again and received two more lefts and rights to the chin that half spun him around. Hudkins wrapped his left arm around Walker's neck and belted with his right to the body. They exchanged rights to the body, each reeling back. Hudkins drove in with his head down, but received three rights and lefts to the body, which brought him up sharply. They milled furiously as the round ended.

ROUND SEVEN

They clinched in mid-ring but broke away quickly to exchange light punches. Hudkins tried to force Walker into a headlock, but they exchanged rights and lefts at short range. Walker landed over a dozen lefts and rights. Walker rallied, throwing terrific lefts and right-hand punches to the jaw that slowed up Hudkins. They both had rights and lefts to the body, but both sides were very fierce. With Hudkins unable to hold on, Walker drove him into the ropes and found a mark on the champion's body. They mixed it another fast rally, both throwing punches wildly at the bell.

ROUND EIGHT

Walker leaped up to take the play, but Hudkins charged across the ring and forced Mickey to the ropes. Walker spurred Ace with a hard left to the face, and drove in with a right to the chin. Walker slashed over a right and left to the chin as Hudkins drove in, but took several stinging punches to the mid-section in return. Coming out of a clinch the champ grazed Hudkins' chin with a right uppercut and belted him with both hands to the face. Hudkins never stopped coming in and threw rights and lefts to the body, meanwhile shaking off half a dozen rights and lefts to the chin. They were sparring as the bell sounded.

ROUND THREE

The challenger rushed across the ring and forced Mickey to the ropes. Walker spurred Ace with a hard left to the face, and drove in with a right to the chin. Walker slashed over a right and left to the chin as Hudkins drove in, but took several stinging punches to the mid-section in return. Coming out of a clinch the champ grazed Hudkins' chin with a right uppercut and belted him with both hands to the face. Hudkins never stopped coming in and threw rights and lefts to the body, meanwhile shaking off half a dozen rights and lefts to the chin. They were sparring as the bell rang.

ROUND FIVE

Hudkins rallied out with determination on his face and belted Walker to the body. They exchanged punches at a fast pace. Walker played for the head and Hudkins trying for the body. At short range Hudkins slipped over a long left to the body and alternated with a right to the jaw. Walker landed sharp rights that cut Hudkins' eye. And he battered the Wildcat with both rights and lefts to the jaw. Walker didn't mind clinching Hudkins at long range, ready to. The challenger backed his opponent away with both hands as the round ended.

ROUND FIVE

Hudkins charged across the ring, got his head down and threw punches from every angle. They exchanged punches during a short flurry in mid-ring, with Walker having the better of the milling. Hudkins stuck three lefts into Walker's face, but took two hard right hands to the body as he was milled.

This little girl, who had a claim to the English throne, became a queen herself. She was a sad, brief one, and her life ended in tragedy, as you will find out when you study English history.

She was a quiet, happy child, and grew up on the estate, knowing nothing of the world outside, content with her studies. She heard of London and other cities in England, but to her they seemed in some strange, far-off world. Her parents were very busy. They frequently went to court in London, but they did not take her with them.

She was seven years old before she ever stepped off the grounds of her home.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A remand until November 5 was granted to-day in the case of Chan Gains charged in City Police Court with illegal possession of opium. W. C. Moreby, K.C., appeared for the accused.

The Victoria West Brotherhood will hold an annual Hallowe'en social and dance in Stanley's Hall, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. A programme of games, cards, music and dancing has been arranged.

When he pleaded guilty in City Police Court this morning to a charge of driving an automobile to the common danger on Port Street, Joseph O. Stinson was fined $50 by Magistrate George Jay.

Prof. Einstein, the Great Jewish Scientist, and His Testimony to Jesus will be the subject of an address by Rowland P. Mills, M.A., LL.D., at the British-Israel Book Depot, Surrey Block, Yates and Broad Streets, on Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

A 500 card party will be held in the auditorium of the Oaklands School on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Parent-teacher Association. Good prizes will be given and refreshments served. The proceeds will be given to the school sports fund.

Instead of holding its regular meeting in the O Pip on Monday, Toc H will go in a body to the Old Men's Home, 2251 Cadboro Bay Road, where they will give a concert for the residents of the home. Members will meet there at 7:45 o'clock so that the evening's entertainment may start promptly at 8 o'clock. Members will also bring special refreshments.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited) Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Wheat. Opened about one cent higher this morning and then dropped back to close, to last night's close, but the local crowd were mostly inclined to be bullish, while offerings were scarce and the market was about to hold firm about three-quarters higher than previous close until the last hour, when Chicago turned decidedly strong and local prices advanced 4½ above previous close.

The strength in Chicago was said to be due to very heavy buying by one large speculator, while the local pit trade were taking on more wheat in sympathy, there was very little, if any, outside buying, the trade going on as local price changes. May wheat was quoted up to 1.46, which met some selling against offers.

So far as can be confirmed, there was no export business worked overnight or again this morning, but there were some foreign bids in the market which were slightly out of line at the opening. There was very little doing in the cash market, but the market being extremely quiet, with the absence of foreign business and shippers are not interested in taking on further commitments.

Offerings of the lower grades were a little more liberal and spreads on these grades were a little lower. Millers reported flour production as slow but they reported a little activity, but on extreme breaks. In the durums, there continued to be good demand for the top grade only and a few sales were made, the other grades being more or less neglected.

Liverpool closed 1½ to 1½ higher was due 1½ to 2½. There has been three or four inches of snow fallen over the greater part of eastern Canada, the past two days, and as the ground is not frozen this moisture will soak in and be of great benefit.

Coarse grains: These markets were all strong following the lead taken by wheat, although there was very little business of importance going on. There were a few more loads of oats made to eastern Canada and a small lot barley was sold to go out of Georgian Bay ports. There was nothing doing in rye.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Wheat prices were much firmer to-day, with persistent buying credited to eastern account as well as some foreign support. The cables from the other side denoted a more confident lead on the other side, the plan of the traders. Farmers in the country to extend practically unlimited credit to farmers holding wheat being a sentimentally strong influence abroad: Argentine pressure lighter.

Europe probably getting past the point of heavy native wheat pressure, and the inference is that export business with this country and Canada now will indeed, as will continue. Export and domestic sales of flour has been big recently.

Argentine and Australian reports indicate a reduction in export sales to-day, 17,500 bushels less reported to the time. Think the market has definitely turned the corner, and with the developments of the next few weeks and months likely to strengthen rather than diminish bullish sentiment.

Corn: Was very early but finished with some selling followed by a little buying, which was followed by short coverings due to strength in wheat. The cash basis was 4 to 5% higher, with sales of 104,000 bushels and only 16,000 bushels bought to arrive.

Weather unfavorable would follow a trading policy for the time being, but on sets corn appears to turn into a sub-

Investment Bonds Lead in Strength

New York, Oct. 30.—Although liquidation of weaker holdings was still in evidence during the early trading on the bond market to-day, issues of prime investment character steadied noticeably from the lower levels attained in yesterday's nervous session. The undertone on the time money market was easier.

Liberty Bonds, bought in large quantities on Tuesday, eased a shade. The low coupon rails, on the other hand, held firm and a few were able to score moderate advances. Utilities and industrials proved to be still under pressure.

In the carrier group, resistance developed in Atchison general 4s, Pennsylvania General 4½s, First Line 4s and Texas and Pacific 5s. Western Division, Chicago Great Western 4s, Canadian National Railways 4s and several Northern Pacific loans weakened.

Pennsylvania 5s lost a point.

The convertibles staged a broad comeback as the stock list regained its poise. American Telephone 4½s, which touched the low of 115 at the height of yesterday's smash, bounded back to 150 about the middle of the afternoon, for an overnight gain of 25 points. There was a slight reaction from that quotation later.

Atchison 4½s snapped back nearly 20 points from the previous close. American 1 G. Chemical 5½s gained nearly 5.

Among the industrials and special issues, there was nominal selling in Chile Copper 6s; Colorado Fuel and Iron 5s; Cuyamel Fruit 6s; Inland Steel 4½s and Armour Real Estate 4½s.

Losses of a point or more appeared in Canadian Gas and Electric 4s and New York Edison Refunding 6s, and there were smaller declines in other utilities.

Foreign bonds encountered steadier trading after yesterday's severe declines.

SUGAR PRICES CUT

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The Western Sugar Refining reduced its prices to wholesalers 20 cents per 100 pounds more than the previous day.

The buying power of traders has been so seriously crippled that they are unable to buy on credit, and the holders were asking higher prices and no sales were reported.

Best sugar prices are ten cents under cane prices.

New York, Oct. 30.—Raw sugar was quiet, but the undertone was firmer and there appeared to be a little more general buying interest at last paid prices of 3.83 cents per pound, but the buyers were asking higher prices and no sales were reported.

As expected, prices for refined sugar were reduced 10 cents per pound, and the refiners at the opening, with all new listings, 3.35 for fine granulated and a better inquiry reported.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Oct. 30.—Whitney of the Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

"The organized support which was expected to make an appearance at yesterday's market was plainly evident at the opening and again on a further break in the early afternoon, and in spite of the net losses of the day, succeeded in bringing about closing prices well in excess of the low points to which the support was extended.

"No one can expect a banking group, even though they are mustering every aid at their disposal, to buy stocks on a large scale. The financial situation problem they were confronted with was to stem the tide of liquidation which assumed the proportions, between the stock exchange, curb and unprinted stop loss orders, of 25,000,000 shares in one day. The net result, however, was a market which, considering this totally unprecedented volume, maintained a strong position in a way superior to that of last Thursday's in addition to resulting in any number of rail stocks closing right around, or even better than the previous night. I think this mass support will reappear in to-day's market with a greater degree of effectiveness and that the rally which will result from this banking support will be substantial."

He found its inception in the low of yesterday simply because that support will be extended at a point near enough to the closing prices to prevent any great number of these lows from being broken.

"In the general confusion no one has noticed the rail earnings, which have been revealing that the earnings reflected in the bond market of 1928 are being sustained in the current markets, nor that their past reluctance to join in with the panicky liquidation assumed a particularly marked form yesterday in their refusal to go down any more with that liquidation.

"The first of the three specific factors which were pointed out yesterday as having a favorable bearing on this market, has already made its appearance in the form of an exceptionally favorable report from the U.S. Steel meeting. The extra dollar declared by a board of directors as conservative as Steel's directors admittedly are expresses their confidence in the future of their industry.

"The second of the week's favorable developments—brokers' loans—will, I believe, take the form to-morrow night

BAKER'S COCONUT

Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL - POOR GIRL, ETC."

CHAPTER XLVIII

Slowly Mrs. Ennis shook her head. "No, it was not Evangeline," she said. Her answer came as a shock to Helen, who was so certain she had found trace of the legitimate Cunningham heiress. She stared wonderingly at the woman sitting across from her. Mrs. Ennis was strangely quiet, as if she were trying to bring herself to say something that she was loath to reveal.

Her hands fluttered up to her face, twisted around her mouth, then dropped back to clutch at the arms of her chair.

In Helen's heart a faint hope was growing that it was all a needless ordeal. She reminded herself that Brent had not proved that she was not Helen's heiress.

No, such hope was absurd, she realized. That second locket! She must find the owner. Then she would know, beyond a shadow, she prayed, if there was a child who should stand in her place.

Suddenly Mrs. Ennis spoke. "I guess I'd better tell you," she said. "It is right for you to know if you are going to see Bob; but not even he, or Eva herself, has been told." She paused and looked at Helen appealingly. The girl said nothing.

"They are about the same age," Mrs. Ennis went on; "and he was such a tiny shaver when we met, when we took Eva . . . He'd been out on a farm for nearly a year with my cousin Emma. He doesn't suspect that Eva isn't his sister. We gave up the hotel because he was too delicate as a child to live in town, and went out to the farm. People lost track of us, and when we bought this house and moved back to town, it was later, after Cousin Emma's death no one had the slightest idea that Eva was not my own child. Heaven knows I've loved her as such," she added tremulously.

Helen sat like a graven image, except for the light that was glowing in her eyes and the slight movement of her lips.

"Then Eva," she whispered—the words would not come louder—"Eva is . . ."

"An adopted child," Mrs. Ennis supplemented for her. "The daughter of the man we knew as Charles Owens. I never I can tell you about her parents than that, but we knew nothing more about it. It was enough for us that we fell in love with the child for her own sake. She was such a darling. My heart went out to her the very first time I saw her. She wanted her mama, and Owens didn't know how to look after her, so when he said he was going away—that he'd just come back for a while to be near—she had to tell him to let us keep the little girl. He was willing and . . . and we've had Eva ever since."

"Eva," Helen murmured; "Eva . . . Evangeline! Oh, Mrs. Ennis, don't you know? Don't you know?"

Her excitement alarmed Mrs. Ennis. "Know what?" she asked feebly.

"That Eva is really Evangeline Nellin!" Helen cried.

"Hub!" The short ejaculation was packed with meaning.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily And Peetie's Plume

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"You must think it over," the mother pleaded.
"Mother, be youse," Bob said impatiently. "I love Helen."
"I know you'd go, I told Helen so."
"I'd fly if I could," Bob declared.
"She won't do something desperate before I tell her."

"No she won't," Mrs. Ennis said with complete assurance. "She's scared but she's brave. Here, wait a minute, here's your hat!"

"Don't want a hat!"

Bob was off. His old car tore like mad through the side streets of Yonkers and down the highway to Bramblewood.

At the door there he brushed past Ash without giving him a second glance and began to call: "Helen! Helen!"

No answer.

"Where is she?" he said so fiercely that Ash quailed before him. "In the garden, I think," he said. "Shall I announce you, sir?"

"Announce hell!" Bob returned and flashed out of the house and down to the garden, calling, "Helen! Helen! Where are you?"

She was walking in the dying garden, white with despair, wringing her hands.

She heard, perhaps, half of what Bob said to her. She was too tired and infinitely glad to be in his arms, to follow his words. But the blessed relief and comfort they held flowed into her pain-weary brain like balm.

Somehow he was going to melt away the black cloud that hung over her head, nothing remained but the silver lining.

There was no talk of prison, of public disgrace, everything would be arranged.

At last Helen interrupted him. "What does Eve say?" she asked.

"I didn't stop to find out," Bob confessed. "What's in in and call tip. I am sure mother has told her, though she hadn't when I left. Well, hear what she has to say. And my guess is you'll say to get your plume, Peetie?"

"Oh, yes, I know what you mean," said the rabbit. "But where are you going to get your plume, Peetie?"

"Oh, I guess I can make one out of sticks, of paper or cloth tied on a stick," barked the puppy dog boy.

Then he went close to his hat box and began tapping the paper head with his wagging tail to see if it was dry and hard so it would make a boomerang sound. And it did.

He began tapping with his tail.

"What's in in?" Helen did not know what to say.

"Oh, Helen," Eva cried suddenly. "I want you and Bob to be happy. I won't let anything happen to interfere with that. So please don't do anything foolish. Don't say a word to anyone."

Helen started again to voice her bewilderment.

"I've got it all worked out," Eva broke in. "There isn't anything left for me, except my music. I don't want to be an heiress. Mother says there would have to be a lot of legal fun. Why should we have that?"

"Helen! I'm going to make a great name for myself as he wanted me to," she said.

"But he can't ever marry a girl like me!" Helen cried.

Mrs. Ennis smiled over her better knowledge of her son. But in her smile was gravity. The daughter of a man of crime.

She shook her head in doubt as she went back into the house after seeing Helen to her car and called to Bob to come downstairs. He knew that Helen was gone, so he obeyed.

As briefly as she could tell it, Mrs. Ennis repeated the story Helen had sobbed out to her.

"Well," she said at last, "don't look so stupid."

"But Eva . . . Helen! I can't believe it!"

"I'm sure it's true, but I don't know what we're going to do about it," Mrs. Ennis confessed. "That poor girl! She's frightened to death. But of course if the money belongs to Eva she must have it. Who'd have guessed that she's been cheated out of such a birthright all these years?"

"She hasn't been cheated out of everything," Bob said defensively. "Helen has been more than generous to her. The poor kid. Mother! I'm going over to her!"

Mrs. Ennis held him sternly back. "But son," she said: "you mustn't go unless you want to marry a . . . marry a . . ."

"Hub!" The short ejaculation was packed with meaning.

PROTECTS MIGRATORY BIRDS

The Migratory Birds Treaty was made between Great Britain and the United States to protect certain species of game and insectivorous birds migrating between Canada and the United States.

What I need is a stiff pompon plume," said Peetie. "Oh, dear, I guess I can't be leader of the parade with my drum if I don't have a better plume for my cap than this."

Mrs. Bow Wow felt sorry for her little puppy, but she didn't know what to do and she was wondering if she could buy him a plume in the store, when all of a sudden along came hopping Uncle Wiggily from the woods and fields in his paw. Uncle Wiggily was carrying something.

"What's the matter?" asked the rabbit.

"Oh, he can see me and a plume for his drummer cap," said Mrs. Bow Wow. "We've tried cloth and paper, but none of them will do."

"How will this do?" asked Uncle Wiggily, and he held up a big thistle flower, purple and white. It was a Canadian thistle, the largest that grows, and its bloom was a perfect plume.

"Isn't it got prickly stickers on?" asked Mrs. Bow Wow.

"Yes," Uncle Wiggily. "I found this thistle plume growing in a fence corner and I brought it for Peetie's parade."

Then the white and purple blossom was fastened on the puppy's cap when the stickers had been scraped off, and all the animal boys said it was just like regular drummer's. So everything was just fine and dandy. And if the direction will take the milk bottle for a ride on the broomstick I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's Hallowe'en party.

School will start at 9:30 o'clock during the next four months, commencing on Friday, November 1. The junior school closes at 2:30 and the senior room at 3 p.m.

There will not be a card party held under the auspices of the Women's Institute this week, owing to the Hallowe'en party.

Mrs. Kinlock, divisional commissioner for Cowichan Valley, will address the district Girl Guides at a special meeting to be held on Friday afternoon at 4:30 in the schools. There will also be an enrollment.

Mrs. L. M. A. Savory, H. Pearce and W. T. Dixon were re-elected to represent the Langford district on the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Association quarterly meetings, at the annual meeting Monday evening.

WASHING RUGS

You can wash Oriental rugs if you use fine white soap and scrub them while they lie flat. Hang on the line and rinse with a hose.

Can Wife

Find No
Man Can Tell
What He Is Going to Get

"It Is the Uncertainty of How a Marriage
Will Turn Out That Makes It an Adventure
That Rouses a Man's Sporting Blood and Lures Him Into Taking a Chance on It!"

A YOUNG man wants to know how he can tell before marriage what sort of wife a girl will make and whether she will suit him or not. You can't. There is no possible way of doing so. Women are the unsolved mystery to which no man has a key. Men have calculated the distance to the stars. They have charted the course of comets so that they can tell years in advance when one will flash into view. They have made instruments so delicate that they register the tremor of the earth and the movements of the sea and the air, so that they can predict the coming of storms and floods and heat waves, but no man is wise enough to know what a woman is going to do next or how she will act in any crisis.

It is because a woman is a conundrum that no man can guess what makes her perpetually fascinating to him, and it is the uncertainty of how a marriage will turn out that makes it an adventure that rouses a man's sporting blood and lures him into taking a chance on it. If men could size up women as they do other men, there would be no more weddings. It is only after a man has worked out the cross-word puzzle that he acquired at the altar that he tires of her and begins to look around for some other female with new complications.

Of course, in picking out a wife a man is wise to look 'em over carefully and apply all the tests that he can to try to find out what kind of a wife the particular girl he fancies will make, and whether they are likely to live together like turtle doves or cats and dogs. Not that this will do him much good, however, except if the marriage should turn out badly it will be a son to his conscience to know that he took what precautions he could to avert disaster.

For, you see, sometimes marriage works a miracle in a girl and sometimes it doesn't. Sometimes a girl is so changed by marriage that her own mother doesn't know her, and sometimes it doesn't alter a hair of her head nor a thought nor an idea in it. And nobody can know whether this metamorphosis is going to take place or not. Even the girl herself doesn't know; and that is why no man can ever tell beforehand what kind of a wife he is getting or even hazard a conjecture as to whether she will suit him or not.

Look at the men who marry airy-fairy little creatures who scarcely weigh more than a feather and who, twenty years later, find themselves with 200 pounds of wife on their hands. Look at the men who marry living pictures who later turn into chromos! Look at the men who marry girls who at twenty seemed as bright and clever and sprightly as the other girls because they had the shining eyes and gaiety of youth, but who never developed another brain cell or acquired a new idea or progressed an inch forward.

All signs fall in dry weather and all signs on how to select a wife are so much piffle, because the way Miss Mary Smith thinks and does is no sign whatever that she will so think or so conduct herself when she is Mrs. John Jones.

For instance, any sensible young man, if he were poor and ambitious and anxious to get along in the world, would think a long time before he would marry a wasteful and extravagant girl who always had on the last thing in expensive hats and gowns and shoes. "Not for me," he would say, "I don't want to spend the balance of my life in slaving for milliners and specialty shops and so I will marry an economical, thrifty girl who doesn't expect to look like a dally hint from Paris and is content to wear garments that came off the bargain counter."

But is our canny young friend playing safe? Not necessarily. For many a girl who has blown in pap's money as if it was waste paper gets a death clutch on a dollar when it is her husband's money and therefore her own money and becomes the most economical of wives. And, on the other hand, many a girl who has never had any money of her own to spend before marriage considers her husband's salary as inexhaustible as the National Treasury and draws upon it accordingly.

Same way about domesticity. You often hear men say that when they marry it will never be to a business girl who knows more about how to make dough than she does how to bake bread. Nor will they wed any girl who is always gadding around instead of staying at home and darning her stockings. No, indeed. When they marry they are going to pick out girls who are mother's little helpers and who know how to cook and sew and wash and scrub and make a comfortable home.

But, like as not, the girl who has spent years in an office makes the most domestic of wives and the most marvelous of cooks because she regards making a home as a fine art and goes about practicing it with joy and intelligence. And many a girl who has never even picked up her own clothes off the floor becomes a model of orderliness when she has her own house to keep.

And by the same token the girl whose life has been passed in the kitchen comes out of it when she gets married and refuses to enter it again. She is fed up on washing dishes and sweeping floors and wants something different. I don't remember a case in which a man married a woman because she was such a good cook who got one.

And there are the butterfly girls. Addle-headed little flappers who seem to have all of their brains in their heels and not an idea of duty or responsibility in their whole systems. Any wiseacre would pick them out as a total loss as wives and mothers, yet I have seen the butterflies turn into grubs after marriage. I have seen them walking the cobbles as gall as they danced the Charleston. I have seen them stand by their men through poverty and hard work and ill luck with never a whimper out of them.

And I have seen prim, precise, demure girls that anyone would have picked out as a best bet as wives and mothers go wild after marriage and spend their time running around with other men to night clubs while their poor, neglected children ran the streets and their husbands worked to make the money they spent on their playmates.

So there you are, son. There is no way of telling what sort of a wife a girl is going to make. You pay your wedding ring and you take your chance.

By SISTER MARY

Many housekeepers fail to recognize the fact that starch appears in four distinct and different types of cooked food. This lack of information is responsible for poorly balanced meals.

Starchy vegetables such as potatoes, cream soups and cream soups, bread-stuffs and cakes, starchy puddings, tapioca, corn-starch and cereals—these are all sources of starch and yet have completely different textures.

Starch in its raw form is largely indigestible and cannot be used by the body. Thorough cooking converts the starch into a form of sugar which can be digested and assimilated. Unless starch foods are eaten in large amounts of water in their composition, water or liquid of some sort must be used in cooking them. For instance, potatoes which are composed of considerable water may be cooked, but cereals or any cereal product must have the addition of liquid in order that the starch grains can burst when subjected to heat.

THE CHEMISTRY OF STARCH

Starch as contained in vegetables and whole grains is stored in an infinite number of cells. The walls of these cells are formed of a substance called cellulose. Heat is almost the only medium which can break down

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1929

One of the rarest of days is pressed by the stars, according to astrology, which finds in the horoscope many strongly-benefic aspects.

The planetary government seems to promise writers, scientists and scholars of every sort a period of great success.

Recognition and reward for those who add to the world's store of wisdom is to be enormous than ever before.

Forecast:

Real literature is to be produced and the stage and the screen will benefit through the highest forms of achievement.

Educational methods are to undergo drastic changes and colleges are to cherish exalted ideals of life. If the stars are rightly read.

All the signs appear to indicate the start of the reign of materialism. The new year will demonstrate a revolt from gnosticism in many forms, it is foretold.

The moment to be most auspicious for signing contracts and making plans for arduous work in the winter months.

Under the direction of the stars, it is well to choose the vocation most desired and to believe that through it will be realized just rewards.

Money is to be less valued as a mere possession than it has been, but it will be more coveted as a means of the signs of talent or labor, the sure prophecy.

Industry is now subject to a fortunate sway, making for wide cooperation between men and women.

The moment to be most auspicious for reciprocal visits is in all they do and many possess remarkable constructive talents.

Richard E. Byrd, noted architect, was born on this day, 1893, and Philo T. Farnsworth, 1898, successful inventor, also celebrated it as a birthday.

Private school birthday is to have the assurance of a year of surprises, among which will be unexpected money.

Children born on this day probably will be unusually fortunate. Those subjects of reciprocal visits usually are successful in all they do and many possess remarkable constructive talents.

PROTECTING TREES AGAINST RABBITS

Rabbits have in past winters done considerable damage to trees planted in shelter-belts on prairie farms. An effective method of protecting the trees from the pest has been found in lightly smearing the trees to a sufficient height with axle grease.
